

What is National Democracy Week?

National Democracy Week is happening this summer! It will start on Monday 2 July and end on Sunday 8 July.

Lots of people will take part in fun events that help others share their views about how the country is run.

National Democracy Week event ideas

If you want to run an event, here are some fun and easy ideas to get you started. You might want to ask a friend, family member or support worker to help you.

You could...

Get your friends and family together to talk about how they make sure their voice is heard

Visit the Houses of Parliament with your family or friends

Show people how easy it is to register to vote online

Make sure people to come to your event

Have you published your event on Eventbrite? To do this visit: www.eventbrite.com

You can follow the instructions online but you might want to ask a friend, family member or support worker to help you.

You can also email us we'll help to explain what to do:

nationaldemocracyweek@cabinetoffice.gov.uk

If you email us the link to your event we can add it to the National Democracy Week website and then more people will find out about it.

If you find any information on our website hard to understand please email us:

nationaldemocracyweek@cabinetoffice.gov.uk

We are happy to help!
